Linn, we are reviewing the plan and potentially have all kinds of comments. However Maki has apparently asked that we don't put anything in writing that might cause a disagreement you would have to respond to in writing. Seems to us that this plan tries to re-open both the background calculation and cleanup standards issues; which you said you wouldn't do. So, where do we go from here? Should we just wait until our next meeting to discuss this verbally? This time I think we need to bring the lawyers.
